MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

We sincerely hope that the appearance of this, the first issue of the Bulletin on Rehabilitation Counseling, soon will become a signal of substantial progress in raising the professional status of rehabilitation counseling. The purposes of the organization are set forth in the Constitution:

...to provide close personal and professional relationships; encourage research; collaborate with other national and professional organizations; formulate and foster maintenance of standards among rehabilitation counselors; and exercise leadership in the developing science and profession of rehabilitation counselors.

The Division is set up in response to the growing consciousness that rehabilitation counseling is ready for formal professionalization. We believe the work is difficult, requiring a basic knowledge of counseling coupled with skillful application in a broad context of diverse activities, and special (but not unique) modifications in the area of disability. We also declare that rehabilitation counselors should possess attributes of mature personality and effective empathy with handicapped individuals. We believe that such attributes may be evaluated according to professional standards by associates in the same field. We are convinced that rehabilitation counseling is professional in nature, and that practitioners should strive to become so in fact.

The members of the Division of Rehabilitation Counseling share the conviction that, for purposes of professional certification and the setting of standards thereof, rehabilitation counselors should affiliate themselves with other counselors who work in schools, colleges, universities, employment agencies, and other public and private counseling programs. Hence, we have formed as a Division within the American Personnel and Guidance Association. The principles, practices, methods and techniques of rehabilitation counseling share a very substantial common core with counseling in general. If rehabilitation counselors divide themselves into a splinter group, it appears to us that their professional development will be hindered, not advanced. The historical development of other professions, such as psychologists, physicians, educators, and social workers, shows that splintering into separate organizations makes for weakness, and each of them is now united and stronger. All such professions have learned that they must work together for maximum effectiveness. Moreover, the development of such professional organizations shows an inevitable need for independence and freedom so that each may work out its own destiny.

Hand in hand with the above need is one to associate ourselves with other organizations with different purposes, but working most effectively for the greater good of the disabled. Today it is natural to join several organizations for different but related aims, in keeping with the multifaceted aspects of each person's interests.

In the light of these aims, the Division of Rehabilitation Counseling is shaping its character and its destiny. The Program Committee under William Usdane has arranged a fine convention program, presented in this issue. The Membership Committee under Abraham Jacobs has initiated its plan of action. The Professional Standards Committee under Martin McCavitt is preparing its recommendations on standards of professional membership. John Muthard heads the Committee on Publications. The Nominations Committee under C. H. Patterson has offered its nominees to signify that the permanency of a vital, democratic organization is being accomplished. And Lloyd Lofquist inaugurates this Bulletin as a product of his Committee.

We invite others who share our convictions to join with us as soon as possible, and to help us in setting firm foundations and courses of action. In so doing, we join with other organizations dedicated to the advancement of the welfare of handicapped individuals so that they may find their rightful share of opportunities in our society and in our time.

- Salvatore G. DiMichael

A Note From the Editor

It is hoped that this bulletin will provide an improved means of communication between rehabilitation counselors in state, private agency, and educational settings. The Bulletin is starting out in modest fashion in the form of a newsletter. Your editor is grateful to those individuals who contributed news items and hopes that there will be continuing cooperation in the submitting of news items and materials of interest to professional workers in the field of rehabilitation. As our membership increases, and we have more resources to put out an expanded bulletin, it is hoped that we will be able to improve both the format and content. Your suggestions for future developments will be appreciated. At the present time it is felt that we will include, in addition to news, brief descriptions of research, brief articles of interest to rehabilitation counselors generally, and perhaps background information related to the history of specific programs and individuals in rehabilitation.

We are proud of our new division and feel that the APCA Convention Program for the division, included in this issue, the beginning effort at a Bulletin, and the fine response to requests for news, indicate that the division should be able to improve communication between rehabilitation counselors and add to professional leadership in the field. Remember to send us your suggestions.

- Lloyd H. Lofquist

R. P. ANDERSON of Texas Technological College will serve as visiting professor at the University of Vermont during the summer session, teaching courses in counseling. He has also been appointed to a special committee organized by the State Commissioner of Education to study relationships between Vocational Rehabilitation and special education in the State of Texas.

Send your news items for the Bulletin of Rehabilitation Counseling to Lloyd H. Lofquist, Department of Psychology, University of Minnesota, Minneapolis 14, Minnesota. We are interested in information on your activities, developments in your rehabilitation programs, research activities, new publications and new additions to your staff. Brief articles describing your program, your research, and particular areas of rehabilitation which you think concern counselors, will be welcomed.

NEW DEVELOPMENTS IN REHABILITATION COUNSELING

Arkansas

The University of Arkansas, Fayetteville, inaugurated a rehabilitation counselor training program with the beginning of the spring semester, 1958.

Connecticut

The Connecticut State Board of Education of the Blind has initiated a travel training program with an itinerant instructor.

Delaware

A totally blind darkroom technician and a totally blind medical secretary have been successfully placed in a Wilmington, Delaware, hospital during January 1958, through the Delaware Commission for the Blind.

Illinois

Under a new program, Illinois Division of Vocational Rehabilitation district counselors interview juniors, seniors and June drop-outs at Illinois Braille and Sight Saving School and Illinois School for the Deaf each year. The counselors also visit their clients at Illinois' state universities.

Iowa

A rehabilitation unit has recently been established in the State Sanatorium at Oakdale, Iowa. It is concerned with the development of work tolerance, maintenance of job skills, and pre-vocational training. Orientation is strongly vocational with RAY WITTRIG, an Iowa D.V.R. counselor, giving leadership to the program. Practicum training is done at the sanatorium by S.U.I. students.

Massachusetts

Springfield College is working in cooperation with the State of Connecticut Vocational Rehabilitation Service to provide the staff with graduate rehabilitation counseling courses.

Mississippi

In January 1958, a Mississippi Council on the Aging was organized as an outgrowth of the Institute on the Rehabilitation of the Aging held in September 1957. A constitution was adopted and Executive Committee members organized with TRAVIS McCHARON, president; WILLIAM S. ALYEA, vice-president; SETH HUDSPETH, secretary-treasurer; MRS. C. C. CLARK; HELEN REESE; DAVID WILSON; A. L. GRAY; MARX HUFF and D. C. TREXLER.

Missouri

A rehabilitation counseling staff has been established at State Hospital No. 3, Fulton, Missouri.

Nevada

With the action of the 1957 Nevada Legislature, the Bureau of Vocational Rehabilitation for the Blind has been created within the structure of the Nevada State Welfare Department. The Bureau's program includes social services in the home teaching area and vocational rehabilitation services for the blind.

North Dakota

A new Rehabilitation Center began operation in January 1958, in conjunction with the Medical School of the University of North Dakota at Grand Forks.

Plans are currently being made to remodel office space for a district office of Vocational Rehabilitation to be located in Grand Forks, which will bring to four, the district offices now serving the handicapped in North Dakota.

New York

The present rehabilitation counseling curriculum at Hunter College of the City of New York is under revision and extension with the probability that the present one year rehabilitation counseling program will be expanded into a two year program in the immediate future.

Tennessee

The Tennessee Division of Vocational Rehabilitation has instituted the appointment of counselors for special disabilities including the mentally and emotionally ill and the mentally retarded. A supervisor of special services will be appointed to advance the program.

Vermont

The Vocational Rehabilitation Division has been developing a rehabilitation house program in cooperation with the Vermont State Hospital to promote the return to normal community living of the hospitalized mentally ill. Two vocational rehabilitation division counselors, MRS. BARBARA CURTIS and ROBERT LAGOR, are assigned to work with the hospital team and to provide the services to clients who move from the hospital to the V.R.D. operated rehabilitation houses.

RESEARCH ACTIVITIES

Arkansas

The University of Arkansas, in cooperation with the Arkansas Vocational Rehabilitation Service, is engaged in developing training for vocational rehabilitation counselors in Arkansas. ROY W. ROBERTS, Head of the Vocational Teacher Education, is director of the project.

Illinois

C. HOBART RICKERT, Chief of Guidance, Training and Placement, Illinois Division of Vocational Rehabilitation, is co-chairman of the Committee on Counselor Needs in preparation for the 11th Annual Guidance, Training and Placement Workshop to be held in Washington, D. C. in May 1958. Included on the committee is HOMER F. NOWATSKI, Chief of Services for the Blind, Illinois Division of Vocational Rehabilitation. This committee is now carrying on a research project in the identification of specific counselor needs.

Iowa

JOHN MUTHARD of the State University of Iowa is presently engaged in gathering data for a research project on "Critical Requirements in Rehabilitation Counseling".

Minnesota

Research on placement procedures with the handicapped is underway at the Industrial Relations Center, University of Minnesota.

Oregon

A study of the rehabilitation of mental patients is being conducted at the Oregon State Hospital, Salem, Oregon.

Tennessee

J. HANK SMITH, Director of the Division of Vocational Rehabilitation is active in a demonstration project with the mentally retarded at Orange Grove School, Chattanooga, Tennessee. Another research project is underway with the senior citizens of Nashville.

Washington, D.C.

A survey of the occupations of the deaf in the United States, a project involving the interviewing of over 10,000 persons, is a joint research venture being undertaken by the National Association of the Deaf, Office of Vocational Rehabilitation, and the Sociology Office of Gallaudet College, Kendall Green. The project will be completed sometime in June 1958.

A Central Index of Research on the Deaf has been established at Gallaudet College, Washington, D. C. The purpose of the Index, which is open to the public, is to collect, index, and abstract available research materials on the social, economic and psychological aspects of deafness.

NEW REHABILITATION PUBLICATIONS

Arkansas

A series of seven monographs containing information primarily for new rehabilitation counselors is being prepared as an outgrowth of the Inservice Training Program for Rehabilitation Counselors in Arkansas. Five of the seven have been issued and two are being prepared.

Illinois

A book entitled Counseling the Emotionally Disturbed, written by C.H. PATTERSON, University of Illinois, is scheduled for publication in March 1958.

Minnesota

A series of research publications entitled "Minnesota Studies in Rehabilitation" will be published by the Industrial Relations Center, University of Minnesota, starting in March 1958.

Nebraska

"A Philosophy of Rehabilitation with Remarks on a Pilot Study" has been written by Harold R. Martin, Nebraska Psychological Institute, Omaha, Nebraska.

Oregon

Cantrell, Dorothy, H.B. "Training Programs for Rehabilitation Counselors in the U. S." Pers. & Guidance J., February 1958.

Vermont

A mimeographed review of the program on "New Developments in Rehabilitation Counseling in Vermont; The Development of Halfway House for Mental Patients" is available on request from Vermont State Hospital in Waterbury or the Vocational Rehabilitation Division, 16 Langdon Street, Montpelier, Vermont.

A summary of the Princeton Meetings in February on the Role of Psychology and Psychologists in Rehabilitation is being written by Beatrice Wright. Readers should watch for this publication since it is felt that the conference will have an important impact on future developments of rehabilitation.

There will also be available in the near future, the proceedings of the recent Cleveland meetings of state directors, O.V.R. personnel, and university coordinators. The meetings were held to discuss field work training for rehabilitation counselors.

The reader's attention is called to interesting reports on "The Rehabilitation of the Rheumatoid and Arthritic Patient" recently published in the summer and fall, 1957, seminar reports of Merck Sharp & Dohme. These reports were written by Edward K. Lowman and Howard A. Rusk and give the counselor excellent background information for this area of handicap.

CONFERENCES...INSTITUTES...MEETINGS

Arkansas

A Regional Orientation Institute for Vocational Rehabilitation Counselors from Arkansas, Oklahoma and Texas was held at the University of Arkansas, February 3-14, 1958.

Connecticut

In connection with the federal grants for staff development, a Springfield College extension course on psychological testing is being given in New Haven, Connecticut for twenty-five rehabilitation counselors.

Delaware

The American Association of Workers for the Blind will meet in Philadelphia during late July, 1958.

Georgia

A staff training program in counseling techniques and occupational information, open to rehabilitation personnel in Region IV, is being planned for vocational rehabilitation counselors at the Georgia Center for Continuing Education, Athens, Georgia.

Illinois

C. H. PATTERSON spoke on "Two Approaches to Human Relations" before a meeting of the staff members of Anna State Hospital and on the "Place of the Rehabilitation Counselor in the State Hospital" at a meeting of the psychological staff of Manteno State Hospital.

Iowa

The State University of Iowa will conduct a Region VI workshop for D.V.R. counselors on occupational information and selective placement, March 24-28.

Maine

The State Department of Education, Division of Vocational Rehabilitation and the State Department of Health and Welfare, Division of Services for the Blind, are sponsoring courses in rehabilitation counseling in cooperation with Boston University, School of Education.

Massachusetts

A workshop in "Rehabilitation of the Emotionally Disturbed" will be held at Boston University, June 16-27, 1958. A limited number of traineeships will be available. Further information may be obtained from Dr. Julian S. Myers, School of Education, Boston University, Boston 15, Massachusetts.

A co-operative in-service training program has been set up in New England, Region I, between the state rehabilitation agencies on one hand and Boston University and Springfield College on the other.

A three-day workshop will be held July 16-18, at Springfield College, on the theme of "Motivation and Vocational Rehabilitation of the C.P. and the Severely Disabled". It will be part of a two-week workshop on "New Trends in Rehabilitation".

Minnesota

A two-week orientation institute for D.V.R. and E.S. counselors was held at the University of Minnesota in January.

Missouri

JOHN MCGOWEN will participate in a two-day training conference given by the state of Iowa on March 24-25.

Nebraska

The Rehabilitation Association of Nebraska and the Region VI Chapter will confer jointly at the Fontanelle Hotel, Omaha, April 9-11.

A regional meeting of the President's Committee on Employment of the Handicapped will be held on April 10 at the Fontanelle Hotel, Omaha.

The University of Nebraska is conducting a course on "Principles and Practices of Guidance" in which several members of the Nebraska Rehabilitation Division and the Division for the Blind have enrolled.

Oregon

A rehabilitation institute will be held at the University of Oregon from August 17 to 23.

South Dakota

Two in-service training institutes for all rehabilitation personnel will be held during the present fiscal year. The first will be March 27-28 at Pierre, under GARNET LARSON, Assistant Professor of Social Work of the University of Nebraska. Topics to be covered include client motivation and co-operative agency planning. The second institute will be on June 3-4, at Aberdeen with JOHN F. MCGOWEN, Assistant Director of Testing and Counseling Services, University of Missouri, in charge, covering such topics as testing and counseling services.

Texas

An orientation institute for rehabilitation counselors will be sponsored by the Texas Technical College of Lubbock, Texas, March 17-28, under the direction of R. P. ANDERSON.

Vermont

A regional three-day institute on the rehabilitation of the hospitalized mentally ill will be held in Burlington, Vermont, May 27-29.
